On June 17, 2020, the Department of Education released an interim final rule on the Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund (HEERF) student emergency grants in the Federal Register. There are two main eligibility restrictions in the rule: 1) students must be (or could be) Title IV-eligible and 2) international students, those in the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program, and those living in the country illegally are not eligible. ED clarified in the rule that enforcement of the Title IV eligibility interpretation will not be retroactive before the date of publication in the Federal Register, but reminded institutions of its prior guidance regarding funds issued to individuals living in the country illegally, those enrolled in the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program, and international students.
